ILLVSTRISSIMO PRINCIPI CHRISTIANO, FRIDERICI II. DANIAE REGIS SVAVISSIMO FILIOLO.

IAm croceis rorare genis Tythonia Coniunx
Cœperat, egreſſus mœnibus vrbis eram:
Sceptraq́; tùm magno commendans Daniça cœlo,
Voluebam hos imo pectore ſæpe ſonos.
Iam vice mutata noua ſors immittitur orbi,
Aprilisq́; oritur, luce micante, dies:
Hic menſis tellurem aperit, iam Vere comanti
Dat flores humus, & fert ager almus opes.
Cornibus intortis iam ſe caper armat in hoſtem,
Balat ad hirſutas iam tener agnus oues.
Blanda operum inſpectrix per prata vagatur Alauda,
Datq́; creatori gutture dulce melos.
Frugiferis addunt campis armenta decorem,
Cum vocat è ſtabulis paſtor ad arua greges.
Mellis apes auidè florum per ſumma vagantur,
Compleat vt dulces, cerea texta, fauos.
Et varia è cunctis elucet gratia rebus,
Floriferi colles, pictaq́; prata virent.
Omnia dum claro toties ego lumine cerno,
Et magni miror munera magna DEI:

Harmonicis ſonuit circum concentibus aër,
Concentus tales per nemus omne volant.
Aduolat omne genus volucrum, genus omne ferarum,
Fallor, an hæc aliquod forſitan omen habent.
Parte ſed ex alia cytharisq́; decorus, & arcu
Phœbus cum Muſis conſpiciendus erat.
Ponè ſequebantur Charites, pulcerrima prima
Hos tum purpureo rettulit ore ſonos.

AGLAIA.

Nunc gaude FRIDERICE tuis Rex inclyte ſceptris,
Aſpirent votis fata benigna tuis.
En optata dies toties ab vtroq; parente,
Omine fœlicis ſyderis orta dies.
Eſſe DEO curæ Reges qui iura gubernant,
Ex hoc filiolo REX FRIDERICE vides.
Ah quoties gemuit ſanctis tua Dania tecum
Votis, imperÿ fida miniſtra tui.
Vt tua nimirum virtutibus inclyta Coniunx
Illuſtrem ornaret prole decente domum.
Annuit Omnipotens votis: è Coniuge Natum
Qui tecum ſeruet regia ſceptra, dedit:
Ipſe dedit talem ſobolem, quæ laudis auitæ
Dulcia cum primo ſemina lacte bibat:
Namq́; tui regni proceres patrumq́; corona,
A quarum pendet publica mole ſalus.

Quantum oneris regno mutatio principis addat
Nouit, & externum reſpuit illa iugum.
Adde, quod ardenti iam feruent regna tumultu,
Et furor in multis concitat arma locis.
Non procul hinc ſanctæ fidei ſæuiſsimus hoſtis
Penè pharetratus mœnia Turcus habet.
Parte ſed ex alia lolium frigensq́ papauer
Infœlix ſpargit ſæua caterua Papæ.
Forſitan hinc aderit furijs agitatus & orco,
Qui temerè tentet flebile Martis opus.
Dumq́ tuis adeò floret pax aurea regnis,
Dum viget optato Dania læta ſtatu,
Ipſe dabit vires (ſi quid tentauerit hoſtis)
Qui tibi conceſsit Danica ſceptra DEVS.
Fortè laceſsiuit te hoſtis temerarius. aſt hunc
Mox liquet incœpti pœnituiſſe ſui.
Ac inimica tuis gens quò crudelior: hoc plus
Danorum virtus conſpicienda fuit.
Hinc tua iam virtus totum eſt benè nota per orbem,
Atq́ vigent regni regia ſceptra tui.
Traxit in exemplum te viuida fama parentis,
Ipſe Pater Patriæ nomine reχ́ fuit.
Cuius vt eſt toto celebris clementia mundo,
Et laudem veræ ſic pietatis habet.
Marte quis eſt vnquam dextro fœlicius vſus?
Hoc duce quis capto mitior hoſte fuit?

Belligeros hoſtes poterat proſtrare ſub iſtis,
Dum geſſit forti, mœnibus, arma manu.
Obſtitit aſt pietas, & virtus proxima Diuis:
Regia deuictis parcere corda decet.
Dat veniam victis: vires tranquilla poteſtas
Sæpius acquirit, quos violenta nequit.
Hac Virtute tuus pater in ſua regna reduxit
Pacem; Pax cunctis anteferenda bonis.
Dumq́; ſuos ciues ſine vi, ſine cæde gubernat,
Terrenas placida morte reliquit opes.
Et meritò hunc Virtus lacrymis defleuit ademtum,
Vltima cultori dans monumenta ſuo.
Mox FRIDERICE tibi Rex ſceptra potentia Regni
Tradidit vnanimis cura fauorq́; Ducum:
Namq́; tui ſeſe veſtigia certa Parentis
Ex te ceu ſpeculo conſpicienda dabant.
Et tum mox ſolio tua Virtus fulſit in alto,
Magnanima quatiens aurea ſceptra manu.
Tuq́; tuum patrem tantis Virtutibus æquas,
Defendisq́; boni dogmata vera DEI.
Hoſtibus euerſis conſeruas ocia pacis,
Dum licet optatæ tempora pacis amas.
Quamq́; bonis faueas ſtudijs ac rebus honeſtis,
Ingenuas artes qui coluêre, ſciunt.
Munificisq́; iuuas laudatas ſumptibus artes,
Et tribuis doctis præmia larga viris.

Ergo

2149.

Ergò tibi meritò cantantes carmina Muſæ,
Gratantur tanto commoda tanta Duci.
Intereà, vt proles vita fœlice fruatur,
Inq́ patris creſcat fortia facta, precor.
Hæc Charitum cecinit prima: & mox ſubijcit illi
Hoſce Thalia loco conueniente ſonos.

THALIA.

Ecce nouo Vere ingentem qui condidit orbem,
Vere nouo patriæ condidit ille Ducem.
Salue blanda patris ſoboles, puer Inclyte ſalue,
Salue Daniacæ ſpes generoſa domus.
Salue parue puer, cui iam fœlicia rident
Secula, cui cœli ſydera clara fauent.
En, tibi grata ferunt caſtæ munuſcula Muſæ,
Nataliq́ canunt omnia fauſta tuo.
O diuine puer fœlix virtute Parentis,
Ridet in exortu Terra benigna tuo.
En, tibi gratantis facies blanditur vt auræ,
Natali præbens tempora fauſta tuo.
Adſunt arboribus frondes, & gramina campis,
Florentiq́ Ceres pingit honore ſolum.
Aurea Vere nouo, verè tibi tempora florent,
Et cunis ſpondent omnia fauſta tuis.
At tu Saxonicæ Sophia inclyta ſanguine gentis,
Cui meritò nomen gratia mite dedit,

Quæ pietate tua & virtute Heroïdas æquas,
Gloria iam claro pignore quanta tua eſt?
Pulcra tibi rectè tribuit Sapientia nomen,
Teq́ tui fecit temporis eſſe decus.
Creſce puer, magni in veſtigia creſce Parentis,
Sæpius & dulces diſce mouere locos.
Creſce puer, votis toties optate paternis,
Ceu ſydus populis exoriâre tuis.
Creſce puer, tibi ſit mens æmula laudis auitæ,
Nobile de cuius nomine nomen habes.
Inclyta tu diſcas facta obſeruare Parentis,
Regnet in aureolo corde paterna fides.
Sic virtutis amor te certa ad munia vitæ
Excitet, & maneat fama beata tibi.
Hoc tibi fauſta tui primo natalis in ortu
Spondent in pulcro ſydera pulcra polo.
Ergo age, perge animi tantas agnoſcere dotes,
Te manet Alcæi non periturus honor.

EVPHROSINE.

Qualia Dardanij cœperunt gaudia ciues,
Natus vbi Priamo filius Hector erat:
Dania ſic læto teſtatur gaudia vultu,
Regia cum clara prole ſit aucta domus.
Gaudet ouans lætis animis Reſpublica, dicens:
Hæredem Virtus inuenit iſta ſuum.
